17th Annual Concert a feast for the senses

Elk Point Ukrainian Dance Club's 17th Annual Spring Concert was a feast for the senses, with over two hours of lively music, bright costumes and talented performers. Former dancer Tom Bayduza served as MC for the evening.

Following the traditional welcoming Pryveet by the Senior, Intermediate and Junior dancers, the youngest members of the club, Alannah Dzerdz, Sage Lowry, Trish Yarmuch, Adam and Nicholas Zapesocki and Sarah Zarowny, performed a charming Children's Dance.

The story of hardworking shoemakers who have their own shoes hidden by the girls came was portrayed by Group 2 dancers Travis Lindquist, Addison Vandermeys, Amanda and Michelle Zapesocki. Four young ladies, Jasmine Brown, Brandi Grekul, Eva Gusnowski and Kirsty Lindquist, followed with a fresh-as-springtime Transcarpathian Dance.

From higher in the Carpathian Mountains came the Hutzul Dance, by Jamy Croteau, April Gusnowski and Monica Naber, in elaborate vests and hand-laced moccasins. Next came a character dance, "Heartache," with a group of friends cheering up a lovelorn maiden, performed by senior dancers Taralee Babenek,

Lions will lead Journey For Sight

Elk Point Lions Club will host their annual Journey For Sight Walk-a-thon this Saturday. The 10 km course starts at the curling rink at 9 a.m., and ends with lunch.

Rain will not call the event to a halt. Rather, it will move indoors at the A. G. Ross Arena.

Walk your dog, push a tot in a stroller, challenge your friends or co-workers — bring your family or strike out on your own in this heart-healthy activity. Pledge sheets are available from any Lions member, and the first 50 participants with a minimum amount of pledges will receive a T-shirt.

Please help the Lions help the community. Take a hike!

The fun and the furry -- show time!

Fundraising underway for Canada Day celebrations

Elk Point's Canada Day Committee held their second meeting last week, and approved a tentative $3000 budget for this year's activities. With a less than $150 nest egg, the committee has sent letters to organizations and former corporate sponsors, asking for help in funding the event. The generosity of these donors, in previous years, has helped to give Elk Point the reputation of hosting one of the finest Canada Day celebrations in northern Alberta towns.

The Lions Club has once again agreed to organize the parade, while the Chamber of Commerce will host their annual pancake breakfast. Last year's bicycle parade was a big success, with prizes for every participant, and will be held again this year. Other children's events will include face painting and a visit from one or more clowns, during the afternoon.

Weather permitting, the committee hopes to hold the afternoon stage show on the outdoor stage which was built some years ago especially for the Canada Day celebrations. The afternoon will officially get underway with the arrival of a color party made up of clubs and organizations, and will also include a variety of singers, dancers and other entertainers from the local area.

A new addition to the Canada Day lineup is a craft sale in the arena during the afternoon, at which the Committee plan to sell souvenirs with a Canada flag or maple leaf theme. The beef-on-a-bun meal will again be offered during the afternoon by the Arena Operating Committee, who are also planning to hold their Canada Day beerfest on Sunday, June 30.

Plans for the Canada Day Gospel Concert are shaping up well, with that event going the evening of June 30.

This year's Canada Day theme is "A Salute to the Canadian Flag."

Tribute to the silent volunteer

By Deanna Easthope

FCSS Director

Volunteer Appreciation Week is over, but I forgot to talk about an important volunteer. These are the people who are always volunteering through their love to us in all kinds of ways — our parents and loved ones.

I remember reading an illustration of this love between a father and son. It was a baseball story. After a specific ball game, a reporter interviewed a great home run hitter. The person didn't talk too much about home runs or runs batted in. He talked about his father. The ball player was Hank Aaron. He did not have very much of this world's goods when he was a young boy, but he loved baseball. It consumed his life. He said that he and his father used to sit in an old, abandoned car that was in the rear of their lot and talk for hour after hour. One day Hank said to his dad, "I'm going to quit school, Dad. I'm going to go to work so I can play baseball." And Herbert Aaron said to his son, "My boy, I quit school because I had to, but you're not going to quit school. Every morning of your young life I've put fifty cents on the table, that you might buy your lunch that day. And I take twenty-five cents with me, that I might buy my lunch. Your education means more to me than my lunch. I want you to have what I never had." Hank Aaron said that every time he thought about that fifty cent piece that his father put on the table every day, he thought how much that fifty cents meant to his father. Hank Aaron said "I never had too much difficulty staying in school when I reflected upon the love my father had for me. As a result of reflecting upon the love of my father, I obtained my schooling and played a lot of baseball." That was putting it mildly from the greatest home-run threat that ever stepped up to a baseball diamond — Henry Aaron.

The above is only one example, but I am sure if we all thought about it, we could come up with many such examples of our loved ones volunteering to do something for us in order to make our lives better.

Yes, our greatest volunteers are the silent volunteers — our parents and loved ones.

FCSS volunteers honored

Elk Point FCSS Department honored their much appreciated volunteers at a dinner last Wednesday evening at the Empress Family Restaurant.

Special gifts were presented to Olga Ruzycki, who has worked as the Meals on Wheels program coordinator for over 20 years, and to FCSS secretary Lynn Proskiwi, in honor of Secretaries' Day.

FCSS Director Deanna Easthope introduced Mrs. Ruzycki, Meals on Wheels back-up driver Rose Solway, Board chairman Andrew Ross, Board member and income tax program volunteer Louis Verhagen, first aid and babysitting instructor Deanna Fakeley, Welcome Package representatives Frank and Doreen Mayner, and Board member John Humphrey.

Unable to attend the event were Board members Stacy Adams, Joanne Ference and Dave Yake, Meals on Wheels driver Hazel Hannah, income tax volunteer Nellie Hillebrand, and community channel volunteer Phyllis Zarowny.

TWO DECADES OF MEALS ON WHEELS — Olga Ruzycki was presented with a special shirt marking over twenty years as Elk Point's Meals on Wheels coordinator by FCSS Director Deanna Easthope and secretary Lynn Proskiwi.

View Points

Praise well deserved

The recognition given to Elk Point Elementary School in the current issue of the ATA Magazine is well deserved. As the article states, this school is truly a "special place."

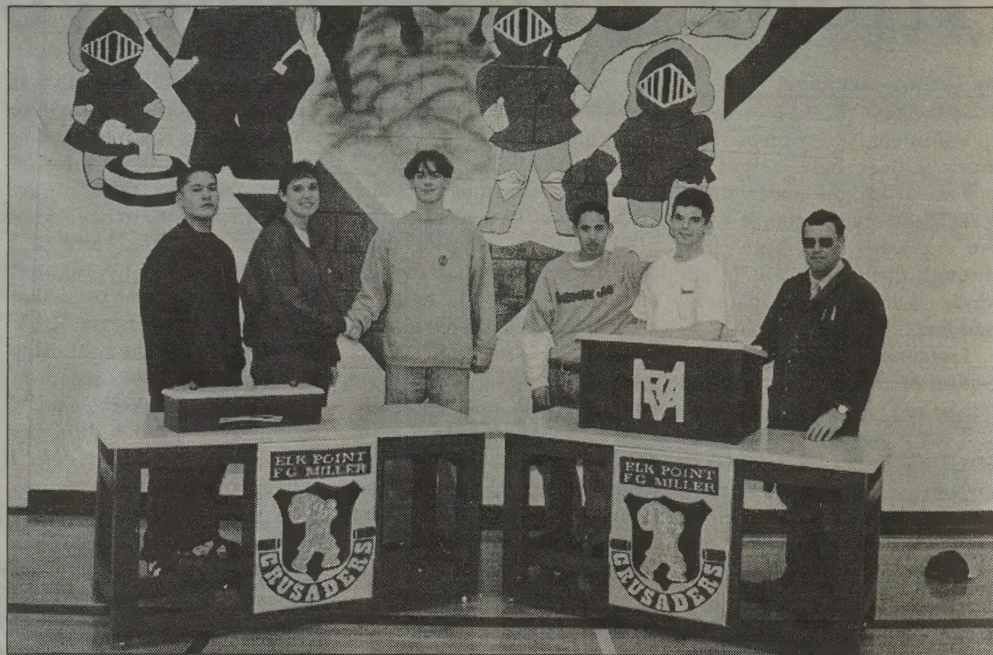

How many schools do you know of that set up a business to raise funds by raising fish for a pet store -- and in the same room as a flourishing banana tree, yet? How many schools get the community involved in sharing special times, with events such as potluck suppers, seniors coming in to teach the students the ways of having fun they had enjoyed in their own school days, and a tea party just for grandparents?

Most schools have libraries, but how many utilize the skills of parents to complete complex tasks such as computerizing the card catalogue, rather than spending tax dollars on the lengthy job? And how many schools have great Open House events when one and all can come and see the great projects of all kinds, from science experiments to artwork, which the students have undertaken during the year?

No question about it, our school is special, from the ECS classes which launch the youngsters into the educational world, to the sophisticated world of the Grade Sixes, which launches well prepared pre-teens into a new world of Junior High. And we, the community, appreciates the untiring efforts that keep it that way.

LIONESS CLUB HELPS WITH GRAD -- Shaina Gadowski of the Elk Point Lioness Club presented the Class of '96, represented by Justin Conrad and Shanna Baker, with a donation toward their grad celebrations.

STUDENTS CRAFT SCORE TABLES -- F. G. Miller High School now has a pair of very hand-some score tables for future sports activities, as well as a podium and a basketball possession light. They were crafted by a group of senior high industrial arts students, who are shown presenting their creations to basketball coach Dalane Huber. Left to right are Gene Cardinal, Ms Huber, German exchange student Oliver Roth, who adorned the pieces with the Crusader logo, Dennis Hudy, Matt Veer and Industrial Arts teacher Blaine Easthope.

The lowdown on sweeteners

By Shelley Miller-Hertes

Registered Dietician,
Elk Point Health Centre

Sweeteners are everywhere! In pop, desserts, juice, gum, candy and chocolate!

To be used in Canada, sugar substitutes have to be approved by the government. This means they are safe for all Canadians, including people with diabetes. The ones that have been approved in Canada are:

- Sucralose (Splenda®)
- Sorbitol, Xylitol, Mannitol
- Saccharin (Sweet'n Low®, Hermesetas®)
- Sodium Cyclamate (Hermesetas®, Finesweet®, Sucaryl®, Sugar Twin®, Sweet 'n Low®, Sweet Magic®, Sweet -10®, Weight Watchers®)

- Lactitol
- Aspartame (Equal®, Nutrasweet®)

(®= registered trademark)
For most sweeteners, the Canadian government has set an acceptable daily intake (ADI). This is the average amount of sweeteners that people can use each day during their lives without causing harm. The ADI is based on your body weight and includes a large safety margin.

These are the acceptable daily intake (ADI) values for some of the sweeteners:

- Aspartame - 40 mg per your weight in kilograms per day
- Cyclamate - 10 mg per your weight in kilograms per day
- Saccharin - 0 to 2.5 mg per your weight in kilograms per day

- Sucralose - 9 mg per your weight in kilograms per day
- Sorbitol and Lactitol do not have established ADIs.

For example: A 70 kg man could consume 2800 mg of aspartame a day (40 mg aspartame x 70 kg body weight). If a 355 mL can of pop contains 185 mg of aspartame, this man would be able to drink 15 cans of pop (2800 mg/day divided by 185 mg of aspartame / can of pop = 15 cans / day).

Since the ADI is based on a person's body weight, it is much easier for children to go over this safe amount than adults. For example, a 20 kg child could safely consume 800 mg of aspartame. This is equal to about 4 cans of pop.

Faith

By Rev. Sam Donaldson

Elk Point Community Church

Last Wednesday, April 24, on the W5 documentary they dealt with the present day complications of sex and dating. A Toronto lawyer is giving lectures to students in eastern universities on the dangers of being charged with sexual assault.

For example, if a man places his hand on his date's breast without first asking her consent, he can be charged with sexual assault. If the girl says no to sex and the man proceeds, it is sexual assault because no means no. If the girl does not resist a man's advances, passivity is not consent. If she says nothing, silence is not consent. If the man asks and she says yes, and she later takes him to court and denies that she said yes, the man is in serious trouble.

The lawyer's advice to the students was to first get written consent before engaging in sexual activity. Life and living has indeed become so complicated in our modern society.

When we turn to the law of God, we discover that the seventh commandment says, "Thou shalt not commit adultery." The apostle Paul says, "Flee fornication." 1 Cor.6:18.

The Bible teaches celibacy in single life and fidelity in marriage. To transgress God's law in any of these two areas is sin.

God's way is so simple and so safe, legally, medically and morally. Let's simplify life by keeping God's law.

Dance Concert a feast

lovelorn maiden, performed by senior dancers Taralee Babenek, Charissa Brown, Kenna and Michelle Hillebrand, Kathy Kozina, Chantelle Maas and Claudia Naber.

Poltavski solos by Alannah Dzerdz and Amanda Zapesocki were teamed with a Poltavski Trio by Jasmine Brown, Eva Gusnowski and Kirsty Lindquist.

Swordplay by future Kozaks Travis Lindquist and Addison Vandermeys in the Zaporozhets, and a Volynski Dance by the senior girls completed the first half of the program.

The second half started off with the senior girls again, this time with a Bereznianka. They were followed by Jamy Croteau, April Gusnowski and Monica Naber with the precise footwork of the Bukovenian Dance.

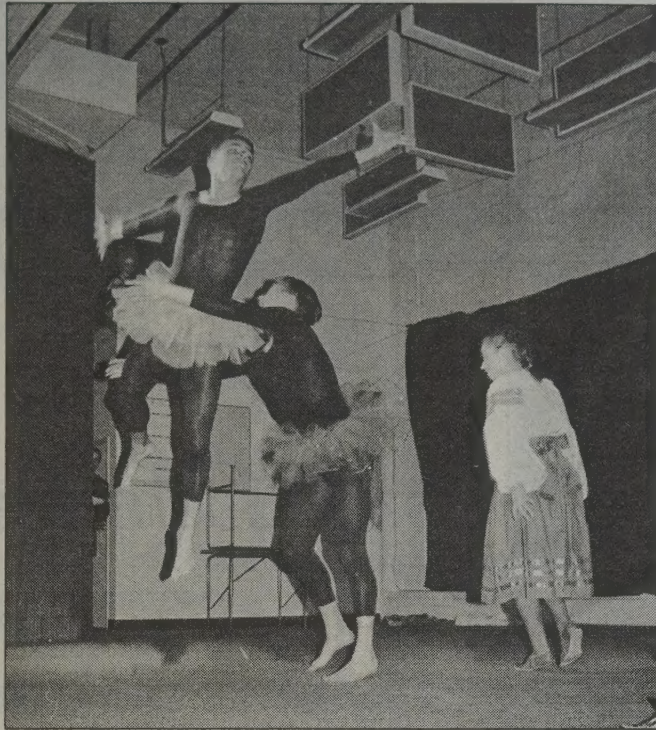

Two pairs of aproned cookie bakers, Jasmine Brown, Brandi Grekul, Eva Gusnowski and Kirsty Lindquist, guarded and then shared their secrets in "Recipes." Group 2 followed with the graceful steps and powerful "prysiadky" (squat steps) of the Poltavski Dance. Missing slippers were the theme of a cute number by Group 1.

Guest dancers John and Mary Kozak joined Mark Kozak for a hilarious number featuring two most unlikely ballerinas in a comic number with a really swinging finish.

Kenna Hillebrand and Chantelle Maas performed a Bukovynian dance, while Charissa Brown and Michelle Hillebrand performed a lyrical duet from the Podilla region.

A Shawl Dance by Jasmine Brown, Brandi Grekul and Eva Gusnowski and Kirsty Lindquist, and a Sickle Dance by Jamy Croteau, April Gusnowski and Monica Naber paved the way for the energetic gala finale of the traditional Hopak, performed by seniors Taralee Babenek, Charissa Brown, Kenna, Michelle and Leslie Hillebrand, Mark Kozak, Kathy Kozina, Chantelle Maas and Claudia Naber.

The evening ended with the presentation of certificates to the first year dancers, plaques to second year and year pins to the other dancers. Special recognition went to Leslie Hillebrand and Charissa Brown, who have been dancing for 10 years. Gifts were presented to Dance Club President Iris Brown, instructor Steve Perozak and longtime supporter Gabe Bayduza.

NOT YOUR USUAL UKRAINIAN DANCE -- These buxom ballerinas are Kozaks in disguise, in an entertaining number by guests John and Mary Kozak and club member Mark Kozak.

How to stop accidents from cropping up.

Every year, farmers and ranchers throughout Alberta accidentally damage buried facilities while digging or disturbing the ground causing serious damage, injury and sometimes even death. To reduce the risk of these accidents happening to you, call Alberta One-Call at least two full working days before you dig and find out where the hidden hazards are at no cost to you. Just remember, it's your responsibility to hand expose these facilities before you proceed. When it comes to safety, we're in the right field.

What's going on with the Saddle Slickers?

By Renita and Rhonda Osinchuk

Saddle Slickers 4-H Light Horse Club

After a long, cold winter, the 4-H Saddle Slickers Light Horse Club is very excited that spring has sprung and about all the activities that will be taking place over the next few months.

Although most of the time it was too cold to ride the horses, we still got a chance to work with Josie and Pam Veer, who gave us a clinic on barrels, Art Wheat, who taught us about cattle penning on Family Day, when our families could participate, and Marion Ryan, who held a riding clinic over the Easter break. We also had our regular 4-H meetings.

Our club held their "speak-off" on March 1 at the Elk Point Elementary School, with Joan Wheat placing first with her speech entitled "Spring Drive." Danielle Schnurer, whose speech was "What to Wear," placed second.

This year it was Elk Point's turn to host the District Speak Off, which was held on March 16 at the Seniors Centre.

Speakers were from St. Lina, Goodridge, St. Paul and Elk Point.

Just recently, members of our club attended the Lakeland College Horse Show and Sale, which we all found very interesting and a lot of fun. Our last meeting was very informative in that it was about judging and information which should have helped us out in picking out that "perfect horse" at the sale.

On April 28, some of our members will be taking part in the Fun and Furry Horse Show. We will all be looking forward to this event.

On May 4, we will be participating in the highway cleanup project, and on May 25, our club will be holding our annual Poker Rally, with super prizes and a great supper to follow. Watch for posters with more details. Everyone is welcome, so bring your whole family and join in a great day of riding.

What's news at the library?

For those who can't get enough of the Anne Perry mysteries...

By Michele Ducek
Librarian

This past Christmas I wandered into a bookstore (my second favorite place to be, after the library) and discovered that one of my (and several other people's) favorite authors had written a lot more books than I had suspected. I promptly took down all the necessary information on these books and placed an order as soon as I had returned. So, for those who can't get enough of the Thomas and Charlotte Pitt mysteries by Anne Perry, here are several more from that trip to the bookstore (including the one where Thomas and Charlotte meet for the first time):

Young Inspector Pitt meets

Charlotte Ellison while investigating the brutal murder of one of the Ellisons' maids and murder is soon the last thing on his mind, in The Cater Street Hangman.

A well dressed gentleman is found hanging from a lamppost, dead. Before Thomas can even get started on the investigation, a colleague of the dead man turns up hanging from the same lamppost. Charlotte joins in the hunt to stop the killer before the next victim is found hanging in Bethlehem Road.

A young man from the upper classes is found in the sewers of one of London's most dangerous slums and his family refuses to answer any of Pitt's questions in Bluegate Fields.

The brutal murder of a doctor shocks the residents of a lurid section of London. More shocks are in store as three more bodies turn up killed in the same manner and Thomas and Charlotte race against time to find the killer before another victim is found in Death in the Devil's Acre.

Two murders in a fashionable neighborhood get Charlotte involved in her husband's investigation in Callander Square.

A young woman is brutally raped and murdered on a posh London street and Thomas and Charlotte look beyond the masks of fashionable society to find a killer in Paragon Walk.

Other stories of mystery and suspense new to the library include:

Over the Edge by Jonathan Kellerman, another Alex Delaware novel. In this outing, Alex gets a phone call for help from one of his former patients and finds himself in the middle of murder.

Mary Reilly by Valerie Martin, the story of a young maid who gains employment in the household of the mysterious Dr. Jekyll. This one was made into a movie starring Julia Roberts.

LIBRARY CALENDAR:

Friday mornings, 10:30 a.m.

LAWRENCE FERENCE

Ference new UFA delegate

Lawrence Ference was recently elected by acclamation to a two-year term as the UFS delegate for sub-district 76. As a new delegate, Ference will act as the intermediary between UFA members in his area and the management of the organization.

UFA has 57 delegates who each select an advisory committee of approximately 20 people representative of the sub-district. This committee meets twice yearly with the delegate and other representatives of the company. The meetings provide a forum for two-way flow of information, including informing management of grass-root opinions and issues. Active members nominate and elect a delegate every other year in their respective sub-districts.

Lawrence has lived in the Elk Point area all his life and presently operates a mixed farm consisting of bison, elk and grain. Lawrence has been a supporting member of UFA since he started farming. He is also presently serving as a director of the Alberta Game Growers Association.

UFA is a member-owned petroleum and merchandising cooperative with 33 farm supply stores, 119 petroleum agencies and over 85,000 members province-wide.

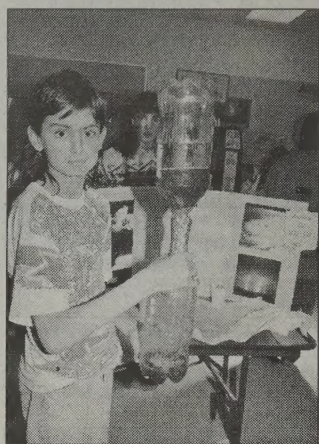

Elementary School hosts open house, science fair

Elk Point Elementary School invited the community to come and take a look at this year's achievements and activities last week, at their annual open house.

Cheerfully decorated bulletin boards lining the walls, classroom displays including everything from fairytale doiramas to a footprint museum, an Earth Day Feather Care project to handmade tick-tock clocks, welcomed the visitors. Two huge murals, entitled "Spring Has Sprung" and "Schools Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," which were created by all the students at last week's Circle of Learning, were of special interest.

A highlight of the evening was the Science Fair, which included a wealth of interesting experiments and information. Special recognition awards went to several outstanding entries. The Grade 3 award went to Travis Lindquist, with a Kaleidoscope, the Grade 4 award to Jonathan Bury's portrayal of Our Solar System. Topping the Grade 5 displays were Danielle Schnurer, Tara Campbell and Wendy Smereka with a well researched display on Skin and Hair, while Grade 6 awards went to Cole May and Kyle Ryks, who demonstrated the force of a tornado in two connected pop bottles, and to Monica Naber and April Gusnowski with their display on The Human Eye.

A Book Fair, which continued on Thursday and yesterday, did a brisk business in the school library, as everyone chose their favorites from an excellent selection of titles.

The evening gave parents, grandparents and other visitors a chance to get a close-up look at the wonderful educational environment which brought the school recent accolades from Alberta Teachers' Association Magazine editor Tim Johnson.

Johnson's two-page article, adorned with artwork depicting such vital members of the school staff as Principal Don Conrad, librarian Myrna Fedorus, Phys Ed instructor Rob Boyd and the guppy-raising Wayne Hymanyk, and the colorful cover showing ECS students creating crowns, had a special place of honor in the school foyer, that all might share this well-deserved praise.

SO MANY BOOKS TO CHOOSE FROM! The wide selection of titles at Elk Point Elementary's Book Fair made choosing just the right book a challenge for students and other book shoppers alike.

THE EYES HAVE IT -- April Gusnowski and Monica Naber proudly display their award-winning science fair entry which explained the workings of the eye.
